

PROFILE - Clyde Richardson, MDiv, CAC-II, SW

Clyde Richardson, MDiv, CAC II, SW, is a clinical counselor for West Michigan Addiction Consultants, PC (WeMAC) and serves as the Director of Education and Training. He participates in case-management responsibilities for patients who are in the WeMAC Residential Program. In this position, he provides clinical services to patients requiring a high-level of intervention and who are recovering from addiction. He also enjoys lecturing to religious and other groups that may be struggling to understand the disease of addiction.

Having completed an internship in the mental health field, and having worked in the arena of addictions counseling since 1988, Clyde brings a depth of knowledge and experience to the WeMAC team of professionals. Clyde holds a Bachelor's Degree in Bible and Religion, a Master's Degree in Ministry from Huntington College, Huntington, Indiana, and a Master of Divinity Degree from Southern Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky. He holds a Certified Addictions Counselor credential from the State of Michigan, and is also a registered Social Worker licensed by the State of Michigan.